INTEGRATING THEORY WITH PRACTICE
As an Education major at Converse, you will join a legacy of award-winning teachers and school administrators. For over a century, the School of Education has been regarded as one of South Carolina’s premier education programs.

With an emphasis on hands-on learning, students benefit from partnerships with numerous public schools, the South Carolina School for the Deaf and the Blind and the Charles Lea Center (an educational center for the developmentally disabled).

At Converse, we dare students to dream big, to get involved and to find their voice. Contact a counselor to learn more!
